

Three years ago, my family and I moved to Cedar Key, and we quickly knew we had found a place we could call home. Today, my husband, our two daughters, and I are proud to be part of this wonderful community.

Over the past three years, Cedar Key has become more than just the place where we live—it has become home. Our daughters have had the opportunity to grow up here and become involved in so many of the activities and traditions that make this community special. From volleyball, cross country, and cheerleading to spelling bees and speech competitions, we have enjoyed watching them learn, grow, compete, and build friendships with other local kids.

Our family is involved in our church and enjoy participating in service projects throughout the community. These experiences have given us opportunities to meet our neighbors, lend a helping hand, and become more connected to the people and organizations that make Cedar Key such a special place.

We truly believe that being part of a community means more than simply living here. It means showing up, getting involved, supporting one another, and giving back whenever we can. Cedar Key has welcomed our family, and we are grateful for the opportunity to raise our daughters here and contribute to the community we now proudly call home.

As a local small business owner specializing in Medicare insurance, I am excited to bring my experience and passion for helping others to my neighbors. I live right here in Cedar Key, and I am here to serve my local community.

My connection to Medicare began more than 20 years ago when I started my career as an occupational therapist. During those years, I worked closely with seniors and their families and saw firsthand how confusing Medicare could be. Understanding plans, benefits, costs, and coverage options was often overwhelming.

That experience eventually led me to a career in Medicare health planning. Today, I help Medicare beneficiaries understand their options and find coverage that fits their individual needs. I take the time to listen, do the research, explain the choices, and make the process as simple as possible.

The Medicare Annual Enrollment Period runs from October 15 through December 7, making this an important time to review your current coverage and determine whether it still meets your needs. Plans, benefits, costs, and coverage can change from year to year, and I am here to help you understand those changes and your available options.

Join Me for a Medicare Information Session

As a local resource, I will be hosting two group Medicare information sessions upstairs at the Cedar Key Library:

- Saturday, October 3, at 10:00 a.m.
- Thursday, October 15, at 11:00 a.m.

My Medicare planning services are free to you, and I am always happy to answer questions. If you want to further discuss your Medicare options we can set up an individual appointment.

I am grateful to call Cedar Key home, raise my family in this wonderful community, and have the opportunity to serve my neighbors. Through my family, my business, our church, our children's activities, and our service to others, we are proud to be a part of Cedar Key—not just residents, but neighbors who care about the community we call home.

I am right here on the island and ready to help.
